Product Description

Arrow Indy Race Titanium Exhaust Slip On 71939PK

Material: Titanium

Back: Carbon

Internal material: Stainless steel

The Indy-Race line was created for particular applications, especially under the saddle, where it is more complex to use the other standard Arrow shapes. Its new section, which recalls the oval of some tracks of the Indy formula, hence the name, is more flattened than the others and maintains a good internal volume to be exploited to reduce noise emissions. The internal components are in stainless steel assembled by TIG and MIG welding while the silencer body, very light, is available in titanium, aluminum or carbon fiber.
