Product Description

Lightech Radiator Guard GPRBM001 The radiator guard represents an essential element for the protection and correct functioning of the engine. This grill serves to shield the radiator from any debris, insects and impacts of small objects while driving. A well-designed grill protects the radiator from wear and damage caused by external agents. Its perforated structure allows optimal air flow, avoiding overheating. Aesthetically, the radiator grill gives an extra touch of customization to your motorbike, combining an elegant design and optimal functioning. The fixing takes place, depending on the various models, with screws and/or cable ties supplied.
